OEA / CELT Teaching Scholars Program

Time: 8:30am-11:45pm, TUSM, rooms TBD

Faculty: Maria Blanco, EdD and Annie Soisson, EdD

Description: Tufts University teaching faculty are eligible to apply to participate in the OEA/CELT Teaching Scholars Program to be held at Tufts University School of Medicine Campus. Up to 12 teaching faculty members will be enrolled. The program will consist of four three-hour sessions. The topic areas of discussion will be learner-centered teaching, active learning, peer observation of teaching with collegial feedback, and participant’s own teaching practices. Participants will have an opportunity to share an aspect/topic/event of their teaching practices they would like to discuss with their peers and receive feedback on, using the step-back consultation approach. Sessions include: Promoting Active Learning Through Learner-Centered Teaching, Peer Observation of Teaching with Collegial Feedback, and Step-back Consultations on Participant’s Individual Teaching Practices.

TO SIGN UP: Email roberta.sullivan@tufts.edu (at CELT in Medford) or nicole.love@tufts.edu (at OEA in Boston)